Mark Twain was in London when he learned that his obituary had been published by mistake. He sent a telegram to the United States saying: the voice is one of the five fundamental properties of English grammar. The other four were moods, tension, person and number. The voice is the link between the subject and the object that are connected by the verb. It is interesting how English allows us to play with the phrases by changing the order of words and providing two completely different structures. While the active item is undoubtedly the most common of the two, the passive voice is used for specific purposes. In this lesson we will see how and when to use active and passive voice is a writing style in which the subject is always before, followed by the verb and the object. The active item is so called because unlike the passive item where the subject is passive, here the subject is active. Andrew hit the ball. Students always learn doing. People call Orlando the capital of the world. Ekaterina doesn't like to visit shopping centers. The active voice is the favorite of the two voices. Since the use of an active item makes the typing shorter, more precise and simpler, many people choose to use it for most of their communications. This means that, unless there is a special requirement so that the passive voice is the ideal choice, we remain faithful to the active item. Since the active item than the active item. Since the passive voice is the ideal choice, we remain faithful to the active item. Since the active item than the active item. Since the active item than the active item. love reading Mark Twain's witty quotes. (Active item) If we were to write a phrase with a passive voice, it would seem embarrassing. Reading Mark Twain's witty quotes is my favorite pastime", it sounds great. But this is also an active, non -passive voice. The active voice connects to the reader immediately. This is because it is free from the tangle of phrases that often accompanies the passive voice. Read the example below: Mr. Miller said that the park should bring in an entrance fee to ensure continued service. (Passive) The order of the sentence presented in the passive state makes it difficult for the reader to understand. That's why we choose to actively use. The passive is a writing style where you reverse the word order and create the object of the action. In other words, the subject is the receiver of the action of the verb. It is called passive because, unlike the active active, the real subject here is passive. Call the following words to see if the sentence is passive. But this is not a complete list. This means that 50 volunteers are needed to make the campaign a success. More than 1,000 people were killed during the war. Results will be announced throughout the day. There are some rules that using the passive voice is better or more appropriate than the active voice. If we don't know who was responsible for the samples: My dog was stolen. (Someone stole the dog, we don't know who he is.) My spelling was corrected it. (The important thing is that the car was repaired, which does not care who did the repair.) Mistakes were made. (We do not want to talk about who made the mistakes. (Out of context it is clear that this person is an English teacher who wants Kenneth to send in his homework again. (Anyone can download the free worksheet, so the passive voice is used.) When reporting crimes or writing in scientific contexts. Examples: The robbers were arrested as soon as they left the building. The animals were kept in the zoo for two years as part of an experiment. The subject is introduced by 'the author'. However, not every passive sentence has complements that contain subjects. Subjects can sometimes be taken from or invoked from the previous sentence. Examples: The food was cooked (The topic was introduced in the proposal.) A lot of food wasted after the party. (The topic is not mentioned, but it can be taken from the context.) A meeting was held at grandma' is remembered by the first sentence.) For perfect progressive tenses (the present is not a passive voice. True systolic preparation reads poetry. Read poetry. Keat read poetry. Read future, keith will Read poetry. Perfect past read poetry. Read future will be read by Keith. If it was Kate's poem, it's conditional though if he read it If Kit was poetry, it would be read to him.
