I've never encountered unprofessionalism. She's the last one left in the office standing, very dedicated and committed to her job and quite honestly I don't believe the business would stand a chance to continue in operating the business if it wasn't for her doing most of the paperwork in the office!! The only downfall is when Z fell sick and passed away. The good help left or was terminated. They can't keep good help! A bunch of kids are hired as medical assistants, and staff bringing their kids to work is ridiculous! Truthfully, I dont really think the MA staff are certified! Dina helps keep them doors open. But I'm a little hesitant with staffing issues, particularly when it comes to Hippa law and my chart being in the hands of others discussing patient records amongst peers in the office where patients can hear. I was just seen in the office and met the new nurse practitioner who is wonderful. Dr. Z, you truly are missed☺ I hope they don't run your business in the ground!
