There are so many gorgeous pieces of male custom content out there, but most creators focus on making stuff for female sims, so it can be hard to find. This list encapsulates all of my favourite must-have pieces of sims 4 male cc that are just so good. This jacket is such a gorgeous piece of custom content and there are so many great details. It starts with the shirt underneath being layered, then you have the gorgeous ribbed texture on the jacket with the sherpa lining and beautiful zipper. I'm just so obsessed with this. The adrenaline set is a gorgeous set of cc athletic clothing that I'm loving lately. This set has every type of athletic clothing you'd need from shorts to pants to long sleeves and everything has a bunch of gorgeous set of cc athletic clothing you'd need from shorts to pants to long sleeves and everything has a bunch of gorgeous set of cc athletic clothing you'd need from shorts to pants to long sleeves and everything has a bunch of gorgeous set of cc athletic clothing you'd need from shorts to pants to long sleeves and everything has a bunch of gorgeous set of cc colours to choose from. The Jorge Top is such a vibe and I absolutely love it. It has such fun colour swatches with colours like bright green or bright blue. I love how wide the sleeves are and the neck is so open, absolutely gorgeous! I've been really obsessed with plaid lately, probably because it's fall and it makes me very happy. These resolution bottoms are a great pair of pants if you love plaid and there's even a matching jacket you can wear in the set. Wearing a robe around the house is one of those things that I'd never wear IRL, like how sweaty are they? I can't even imagine. Anyway, these leather pants are one of my favourites for my male sims and look so good with t-shirts. I'm not sure what's happening to me but honestly, I'm in a cargo pant era. Not IRL, I don't have enough things to carry to need this many pockets, but my sims have been wearing them a lot and these are my favourite ones for male sims. The cutting edge top is an interesting one and comes from a really unique set of cc clothing. This top has a nice ribbed texture with the front being cut open and held together by a string showing off the centre of your sim's body. I absolutely love a long coat for all my sims. These types of coats feel so classy and beautiful and this one is really gorgeous. It has buttons, pockets and great swatch colours to choose from. The love on the floor shirt is a wide open button down shirt that shows off so much of your sim's chest. If you want to cover up slightly the creator also has a download for a lace accessory shirt you can add underneath for a different look. The Brodie jacket is an awesome t-shirt with a nice ribbed textured jacket on top in a solid colour. I really enjoy that the buttons on the jacket are the same colour instead of being black or white, it makes a more interesting vibe. This gorgeous jacket was created by Gorilla Gori colour and t-shirt style for every sim. This tank tied shirt is so fun with a shirt tied around the sim's neck while they are wearing a simple white tank top. Great look for summer! As I'm making this list we are just starting to head into fall and I'm fully in the mindset of sweater weather and this one fits that for all of my sims. I'm someone IRL who doesn't wear a lot of patterns so I love making my sims wear them instead. This shirt is a great ribbed textured with a fun pattern that you'll love. Most of the more formal clothes that are in the vanilla game just aren't my style. This mark outfit makes up for all of that. added sweater underneath makes it even better. Skinny jeans are no more, and these mom fit denim jeans are a great shape for your sims. I absolutely love the belt chain style too. This blazer is the best, honestly. It's a must have for my sims are always just cooler than I am, and this sweater makes them look it. I love the collar underneath the sweater, it looks awesome! As a woman I wish I could have my shirt open like this. I love the look of an open chest, especially when it has a bit of chest hair. This Miguel top comes from an incredible set of clothing by Serenity. This one is so fun with that same open chest style, leaving space for a gorgeous necklace. I love having items in my mods folder that are covered in fun patterns and that's why I love the promise jumper. This one has fun flames or cute camo options. My sims spend most of their time looking comfy, so I want them to have comfy outerwear options too. This is a look I wear all of autumn, so I have to have it in my mods folder. This half-zip sweater is fun because it comes in different colours, patterns and even with simlish style logos of popular brands. The Ezra cardigan is a fun knit cardigan that there are both neutral colours and fun patterns so you can pick the swatch based on your sim's personality. For some reason lately I've been obsessed with daisies are just so cute! This jacket is such a great look for autumn weather in the game and has a neutral and wearable feel which I love. The colour block of this sweater is so much fun, I love the short sleeve in one colour and the sleeves in another. It just looks so cool when my sims wear it too! I'm obsessed with sweatpants lately, because they are so comfortable. My sims deserve this too, and this sweatsuit is a great option! This jacket is an interesting one to me, I like my sims deserve this too. wearing sherpa in the game because I can't wear it IRL without touching it with wet hands and wanting to cry. Anyway, cute jacket. This button down is a great look for sims in the summer time with a simple pair of shorts. I love the floral swatches on the over shirt so much, so adorable. A simple but well-made t-shirt is a great item to have in your mods folder, I promise. This is something I use all the time because it fits my sims well and has fun designs. These are such great pieces for my male sims, I'm obsessed. Do you want more? Who are we kidding, of course you do. Why not check out these gorgeous male cc sweaters that you'll be obsessed with! The Phantom was procured to serve in both the Royal Air Force (RAF) in several different roles. Most Phantoms operated by the UK were built as a special batch containing a significant amount of British technology. Two variants were initially built: the F-4K was a carrier-based air-defence interceptor for the Fleet Air Arm, while the F-4M was initially used by the RAF for tactical strike and reconnaissance, before transitioning to an air defence role in the 1970s. In the mid-1980s, a third Phantom variant was obtained when fifteen former US Navy F-4J aircraft were purchased to augment the UK's air defences. Although the Fleet Air Arm ceased using the Phantom in 1978, the RAF retained it until 1992, when it was withdrawn as part of a series of post-Cold War defence cuts. (Full article...) The species is native to southeast Europe and the Middle East. It grows up to 10 to 15 centimetres (4 to 6 inches) tall and is valued for its daisy-like flowers, which appear in early spring, a time when little else is in flower. The flowers are found in various colors and are radially symmetrical, containing seven or more sepals and petals. This purple A. blanda flower was photographed in Bamberg, Germany. Copernicus proposed the heliocentric universe, which was met with strong resistance, and Tycho Brahe refuted the theory of celestial spheres through observational measurement of the 1572 appearance of a Milky Way supernova. These events directly challenged the long-held notion of an immutable universe supported by Ptolemy and Aristotle, and led to major revolutions. in astronomy and science. Galileo Galilei became a champion of the new sciences, invented the first thermometer and made substantial contributions in the fields of physics and astronomy, becoming a major figure in the Scientific Revolution in Europe. England in Northern America and the Lesser Antilles. The Portuguese became the Materica and the Indies, whereas the Spanish came to dominate the Greater Antilles, Mexico, Peru, and opened trade across the Pacific Ocean, linking the Americas with the Indies. English and French privateers began to practice persistent theft of Spanish and Portuguese treasures. This era of colonialism established mercantilism as the leading school of economic thought, where the economic system was viewed as a zero-sum game in which any gain by one party required a loss by another. European wars of the period and arguably fueled European expansion and imperialism throughout the world until the 19th century or early 20th century or early 20th century. The Reformation in central and northern Europe gave a major blow to the authority of the papacy and the Catholic Church. In England, the British-Italian Alberico Gentili wrote the first book on public international law and divided secularism from canon law and Catholic theology. European politics became dominated by religious conflicts, with the groundwork for the epochal Thirty Years' War being laid towards the end of the century. In the Middle East, the Ottoman Empire continued to expand, with the sultan taking the title of caliph, while dealing with a resurgent Persia. Iran and Iraq were caught by a major popularity of the Shia sect of Islam under the rule of the Safavid dynasty of warrior-mystics, providing grounds for a Persia independent of the majority-Sunni Muslim world.[2] In the Indian subcontinent, following the defeat of the Delhi Sultanate and Vijayanagara Empire new powers emerged, the Sur Empire founded by Sher Shah Suri, Deccan sultanates, Rajput states, and the Mughal Empire[3] by Emperor Babur, a direct descendant of Timur and Genghis Khan.[4] His successors Humayun and Akbar, enlarged the empire to include most of South Asia. Japan suffered a severe civil war at this time, known as the Sengoku period, and emerged from it as a unified nation under Toyotomi Hideyoshi. China was ruled by the Ming dynasty, which was becoming increasingly isolationist, coming into conflict with Japan over the control of Korea as well as Japanese pirates. In Africa, Christianity had begun to spread in Central Africa and Southern Africa. Until the Scramble for Africa in the late 19th century, most of Africa was left uncolonized.
