Click to verify

```
Use a strong, attention-grabbing opening. Discuss your qualifications briefly, then move on. Focus your speech on your passion and present a blueprint to achieve your goals. Close with a strong summary and call to vote for you. 1Find an attention-grabbing opening statement. To begin your speech for student council president, you need to begin with a strong, attention-grabbing opening. You'll likely be giving this speech during school hours, so your classmates will already know as much and this is not really a unique statement. There will be time to state the basic information after you've got the class's attention.[1]You can open with a question that adds some humor, like, "I know what you're thinking. Why should I listen to this person?" and then proceed to lay out your credentials. Quotes on leadership, power, and guidance would also make good openings. However, make sure to double-check your sources and especially if you're finding quotes online. Many online quote databases, like Quote Garden or Brainy Quote, sometimes attribute quotes to the wrong sources.[2]If you're stuck, look up and read famous speeches. You can find many speeches from presidents, world leaders, civil rights activists, and others online. Pay attention to how they opened their speeches and ask yourself, "Was this interesting? Do I want to keep reading/listening? Why?"[3]2State the basics.[4] Once you've gotten your audience's attention, you should state the basics. Talk briefly about who you are and why you're running. State your name and grade in school. This may feel somewhat unnecessary if you go to a small school, but it's considered a formality. If you're missing this part of the speech, you may end up looking sloppy in comparison to other students. [5] State what you want. That is, what you're running for. Do you want to be the president, vice president, treasurer, secretary? Even if you think most students are aware of what position you're running for, make sure you state it here to remind them.[6]Try to keep this section brief as it's not as important as your qualifications and plans to improve the school. Even one sentence would suffice. For example, "My name is Ramona Hart, I'm in the 11th grade, and I'm running for treasurer of the student council." Advertisement 3List your qualifications. Perhaps the most important part of your intro is listing your qualifications. Students need to know what they have to gain by voting for you. Any accomplishments relevant to the position warrant mentioning here. If you're running for secretary, for example, talk about your summer job filing papers in your uncle's law firm. If you're running for student council president, talk about your leadership experience being captain of the swim team.[7]While this section is important, try to keep it minimal. A couple of sentences laying out your qualifications is enough as the body of your speech is where you should spend the most time. For example, let's go back to the above example. From there, we could say, "I am currently enrolled in advanced placement algebra and I have been an honor roll student for three years. This knowledge of numbers and diligence qualifies me to have responsibility for finances for our student council."[8] Advertisement 1State your main ideas on how to improve the school. [9] You should have at least three ideas you feel would benefit your school and classmates. This gives your classmates the incentive to vote for you and shows you want the position as an opportunity to help others. You should list your ideas and then expand on them later in the body. It might take a bit of research to figure out what you want to change. Ask around the school, talking to students and teachers, and see where there's room for improvement. What are people happy with regarding the school? What would they like to see change? Asking these questions can help you get a sense of your audience and community. Remember, you should not make promises you cannot keep. Do not say anything just to get elected. While many students might want gum-chewing policies eliminated or for the lunch period to run twice as long, this is probably not necessary or possible. Try to focus on areas that seem important to keep your school running safely and efficiently. Concerns about things like bullying, academic standards, and extracurricular activities should be your concern over fun and games.[10]A good opening statement for you were running for president, you could say something like, "I understand we need to improve how we handle bullying, increase interest in extracurricular activities, and expand access to AP courses throughout the school. As your president, I would work to bring in speakers to talk about sensitivity in the classroom, increase advertising for basketball games and quiz bowl tournaments, and start a tutoring program to help students struggling with certain subjects."[11]2Find support for those ideas. You should do a little extra research in addition to talking to classmates and teachers. Have some specific plans on how you would enact change in your school. Using the school library or computers, figure out the best means to tackle certain problems many schools face. How have other schools dealt with bullying? Poor test scores? Low interest in extracurricular activities? What can you reasonably do as a student council member to address these problems?[12]You do not have to have a point-by-point plan laid out, but a few sentences on some preliminary ideas can help you stand out from your peers.
People are more inclined to vote for someone who's thought about how to solve problems in addition to identifying problems. [13] 3Keep your ideas short but very strongly worded. Your body should be about two paragraphs of 5 to 6 sentences each. This might sound brief, considering how much information you'll have to get across, but you have limited time and must keep people's attention. It can help to write more than you need and gradually cut down your speech to the bare essentials. This will help it to be shorter meaning that students won't get bored when listening to your speech. Advertisement 1Reiterate your main points briefly. When you reach your conclusion, briefly go over your main points.[14] A one to two-sentence summary of your plans as president should start your conclusion. Something like, "With my experience and passion, I believe I could be a great leader. I promise to do my best to curb bullying, increase student interest in the school, and increase overall academic achievement."[15]2Emphasize your benefits to the audience. You should emphasize your benefits to the audience one last time. However, do so differently than you did in the initial introduction. Do summarize, briefly, your qualifications but do not put the main focus on them. This is where you should sincerely state your passion. Students should not just vote for you because you'd do a good job but because you genuinely care about the school. State your passion for your community and how much you want to see other students have high qualifications. You can set yourself apart by being a candidate who really cares.[16]3Ask the audience for their vote. The last part of your speech should be a sincere request that the audience votes for you. Try to come off as humble. Instead of saying, "I expect your vote next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if anyone of you chose to vote for me next Saturday!" say something like, "I would be honored if you chose to you feedback, even if it's negative. You should write your speech, at least, a couple of weeks before the election so you have time to have a few people look it over and give you advice. You should even give them a number-based answer from 1-5. Research what other student council speeches are like on video websites. This could help give you ideas.
Advertisement Add New Question Question How can I memorize a speech? Patrick Muoz Voice & Speech Coach, focusing on public speaking, vocal power, accent and dialects, accent reduction, voiceover, acting and speech therapy. He has worked with clients such as Penelope Cruz, Eva Longoria, and Roselyn Sanchez. He was voted LA's Favorite Voice and Dialect Coach by BACKSTAGE, is the voice and Speech trainers Association. The easiest way to memorize a speech is to map it out for yourself. Figure out your speech's major intention and memorize the key points. When practicing, try using flash cards or recording yourself and watching it back. Question Should we say somethings about ourselves? It depends on the purpose of the speech. If you are running for student council, then yes, your speech should tell people about yourself. If your speech has nothing to do with you directly, then you do not need to talk about yourself unless you feel a personal anecdote will better your main point. Question Can the speech be long? It shouldn't be, because the audience likely will stop paying attention. If you insist on making it long, make it entertaining by adding stories or making it different. See more answers Ask a Question Advertisement Thanks Helpful 133 Not Helpful 20 Thanks Helpful 20 Thanks Helpful 19 Advertisement This article was co-authored by Patrick Muoz. Patrick is an internationally recognized Voice & Speech Coach, focusing on public speaking, vocal power, accent and dialects, accent reduction, voiceover, acting and speech therapy. He has worked with clients such as Penelope Cruz, Eva Longoria, and Roselyn Sanchez. He was voted LA's Favorite Voice and Dialect Coach by BACKSTAGE, is the voice and Speech Crainers Association. This article has been viewed 2,170,308 times. Co-authors: 137 Updated: March 17, 2025 Views:2,170,308 Categories: School Leadership PrintSend fan mail to authors for creating a page that has been read 2,170,308 times. "Well, I'm running for student council next week and I have never really been that good at writing a speech of that kind. This article helped me bring my ideas together and I really hope the work I put in to this speech will be worth it. Thanks! ;)"..." more Share your story Writing a student council speech may seem daunting, but having an example to look at can help inspire you. Use the speech on this page to help you think about what you might like to say to the students voting for you. Following the example below, you will learn how to prepare the following parts of the Student Council Speech sy "Charlie" that follows a twelve step process from knowing your audience to ending with a call-to-action. The speech below was sent in by Stephanie who was running for student council President council President council Steph's speech, check out anotherstudent council speech samplefor additional inspiration. Also, the bookStudent Council Campaign: Winning Strategies, Speeches, Poster, and Slogansreviewed below can help you take your entire campaign to a whole different level, not only your speech. Introduce yourselfSet your audience at easeUse a quick attention getter or themeProvide a brief foreshadowing of your call to actionGood afternoon, students and staff members! My name is Stephanie, and I'm running for student body president. I'll keep this quick as I'm sure you are ready to get out of here. You might be saying to yourself, "Should Stephanie really be the student body president? After all, she's only been at our school for two years." Organize around just 2-3 main ideas Provide 2-3 supporting details for each claim Points should solve for a pain your audience (your fellow students) feelsIt's true that I am fairly new to Jefferson Anderson High School. At first glance, this may seem like a disadvantage. I didn't attend this school for my freshman and sophomore years, and I've only known most of you for a couple of years. When you think about it though, there is actually a benefit in choosing someone who is coming into the school from somewhere else. I have new ideas that I can bring in from the school I was at before. Are you ready to do something different? One thing I noticed about this school when I came last year is that most of the students didn't really get to make any of the decisions here at the school. Did anyone ever ask you what you wanted to do for a fundraiser? Did anyone ever ask you what you wanted to buy with the money we raised? Who makes these decisions? Those types of decisions are left up to student council. The person you choose to represent you as president will speak for the entire senior class. Do and speak for you. Your browser does not support the audio element. Briefly summarize your main pointsWeave in your themeInclude a clincher and call to actionI may not be the most well-known person running for student council president, but I promise to listen to each and every one of you. You matter. Your opinion matters. Don't choose someone who will make all of the decisions for you. Don't vote for the person who will pick whatever their friends want them to choose someone who wants to be your student council president. When writing a student council speech, you need to remember to research what the student body NEEDS and WANTS. Connecting with the audience is key. Let them know how you will serve them!You can interview students, teachers, administrators, etc. to find out what would help your school grow and develop in a positive direction, then incorporate those ideas into your presentation. This advice is useful whether you're running for student council president, treasurer or secretary. Do your due diligence and know what it is your target audience wants to hear before you write your speech!Continue readingTwelve Vital Tips for Student Council Speechesand see another Sample Speech.Or, check out the student council speech in the video below for more ideas on how to present the best address ever. This guy has charisma and is funny as well! Winning Strategies for a Student Council Campaign eBook: According to Isaac Myhrum, a winner of student council seats beginning in the 6th grade, you can develop the confidence and skills to lead. Isaac rose above the typical popularity contest to win on merit and credibility. His bookStudent Council Campaign: Winning Strategies, Speeches, Poster, and Sloganswill guide you to improve your overall strategy and topicsvoter audience analysisforming a campaign teamexamples of successful postersand more advice for appealing to student voters. You can order on Amazonfor reading with the free Kindle App and support Best Speech Topics is a compensated affiliate of Amazon.] Running for student council is an admirable pursuit. Use our student council speech guidance to become a representative of your council for the right reasons - to make positive change and help fellow students. Winning provides an opportunity to improve your school and make meaningful change. (Owens, E. (2015, August 11). Viewpoint: 4 reasons to run for student government. Retrieved December 2, 2018, from Return to the Top of the Page Share this page School speech topics can be difficult to come up with, because you need to find a topic that will be interesting to your classmates. On this page, I have lots of ideas to help!Finding a speech topic to present in school will depend, of course, on which level of education you're at!Click the link below that applies to YOU, and you'll find a list of ideas suitable for your level of education...Elementary schoolUniversity/collegeYou may also like to check out these cool categories: Speech topics for kidsFunny Speeches for School.If a teacher provides guidelines for a particular type of speech, read our tips below to find help for specific speech selections such as persuasive, informative, demonstrative, extemporaneous, or impromptu. Tips for Success!To come up with the perfect topic to meet your needs, look over you some general speaking guidelines. There are many different types of speeches, and each type of speech may dictate its own brand of topic selection. For example, some teachers may want you to give a persuasive speech. In that case, you must come up with a topic that will lead people to make some decision. Perhaps your teacher wants you to give a persuasive speech. In that case, you must come up with a topic that will lead people to make some decision. Perhaps your teacher wants you to give a persuasive speech. In that case, you must come up with a topic that will lead people to make some decision. Perhaps your teacher wants you to give a persuasive speech. In that case, you must come up with a topic that will lead people to make some decision.
include a process to demonstrate to class. If, though, your teacher has decided you should give an informative speech, you can speak on ANY topic you like, so long as you teach the audience about your chosen topic. Other common categories of school speech topics that BST readers can explore on Best Speech Topics include extemporaneous, impromptu, and debate, among others. Upon determining the type of speech required, start making your list of school speech topics. However, there are a few other things you should think about is the required length of your speech. A longer presentation might require a more complicated topic. A simple subject matter would work best for a shorter address. Another thing that it is essential to consider is the level of research required to present the audience with a clear picture of your chosen area. For example, if you only have three days to prepare your speech, you may need to choose a topic area where you have some background knowledge. If, on the other hand, you have one month to prepare, the instructor probably expects some pretty extensive research and preparation beforehand. Understanding the parameters of the speech is the key to getting the best possible list of school speech topics. Check out these lists of good speech topics to help you brainstorm. Use quotes for kids or quotes for graduation to give you some extra ideas. Once you've finished brainstorming your list, you're ready to start making some decisions. Be sure that you choose a topic you're comfortable. Moreover, be sure that you find an issue that has some accessible resource information, as even the most basic speeches need thorough research. Coming up with the right school speech topics can be a bit daunting at times. Understanding the rules of your speaking engagement, as well as the interests of your audience, are keys to public speaking success. Sample Speeches Related to SchoolBST Audience readers seeking help with a graduation, student council, or other school speech may find the list of pages below helpful. For a more comprehensive list of examples to study and learn from visit our index of free speech samples. Sample High School Graduation Speech Sample Graduation Speech Sample Fersuasive Speech Sample Fersuasive Speech Sample Graduation Speech Sample Fersuasive Speech Fersuasive Speech Sample Fersuasive Speech Sample Fersuasive Speech Sample Fersuasive Speech Fersuasive S Sample Speech from Charlie This sample student council speech was written by a visitor to this site, for her campaign to become council speech and win a place in your student council speech was written by a visitor to this sample student council speech - sent in by a visitor to this site - as inspiration for your OWN speech. Return to the Top of the Page Home Page > School Speech Topics Are you running for student council and need some inspiration for your Campaign speech? Look no further! As a seasoned speech writer with three decades of experience, Im here to guide you through the process of crafting a compelling speech that will win over your fellow students. Speech Examples for Student CouncilIn this article, youll find six sample speeches of varying lengths, each tailored to different occasions and audiences. Whether youre aiming for a short and sweet introduction or a lengthier, more detailed address, these examples will provide you with the building blocks to create a speech that truly resonates with your peers.Lets explore the sample speeches: Speech 1: Introducing Yourself and Your VisionGood morning, everyone! My name is [Your Name], and Im running for the position of [Position] in our student council. I believe that our school has the potential to be an even more incredible place, and I want to work with all of you to make that happen. As your [Position], I will focus on three main goals: increasing a more inclusive and welcoming environment for everyone. Together, we can make our school a place where every student feels valued, heard, and supported.Im excited to bring my passion, dedication, and leadership skills to this role, and I hope to earn your vote. Lets work together to build a brighter future for our school community! END OF SPEECH Commentary: This short speech is perfect for introducing yourself and your vision to the student body. Its concise, yet it touches on key points that will resonate with your audience. This speech is ideal for a brief campaign introduction or a quick address during a school assembly. Speech 2: Addressing a Specific IssueHello, fellow students. Today, I want to talk about an issue that affects many of us: the lack of healthy food options in our school cafeteria. As your potential [Position], I believe we must work together to ensure that every student has access to nutritious meals that fuel their bodies and minds. If elected, I will collaborate with the administration and the cafeteria staff to introduce a wider variety of healthy food choices, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grain options, and lean proteins. I will also advocate for the inclusion of vegetarian and vegan options to cater to the diverse dietary needs and preferences of our student body. Additionally, I plan to organize educational workshops and events that promote healthy eating habits and teach students about the importance of proper nutrition. By working together, we can create a school environment that prioritizes the health and well-being of every student. Thank you for your time, and I hope to have your support in the upcoming election. END OF SPEECH Commentary: This medium-length speech focuses on a specific issue that is relevant to the student body. It demonstrates the candidates understanding of the problem and presents concrete solutions. This speech is suitable for a more detailed campaign address or a debate on school-related issues. Speech 3: Encouraging Student Involvement food afternoon, everyone. As we all know, student involvement in the heart and soul of our school community. Its what makes our school an engaging and meaningful place to learn and grow. Thats why, as your potential [Position], I want to make student involvement my top priority. If elected, I will work tirelessly to create more opportunities for students to get involved in extracurricular activities, clubs, and events. I believe that every student should have the chance to explore their passions, develop new skills and connect with like-minded peers. To achieve this goal, I will collaborate with the administration, faculty, and student leaders to organize a wide range of activities that cater to diverse interests and talents. From sports and arts to community service and academic clubs, there will be something for everyone. Moreover, I will ensure that these opportunities are accessible to all students, regardless of their background or financial situation. I will advocate for funding and resources to support student-led initiatives and provide the necessary equipment and materials. By fostering a culture of student involvement, we can create a stronger, more connected school community where every student feels valued and empowered to make a difference. So, lets work together to make our school a place where every student involvement! END OF SPEECH Commentary: This long speech emphasizes the importance of student involvement and presents the candidates plan to create more opportunities for students to engage in extracurricular activities. Its an inspiring and motivational speech that can be used for a longer campaign address or a school-wide event promoting students. Today, I want to talk about a topic that is close to my heart: diversity and inclusion. As your potential [Position], I believe that our school should be a place where every student, regardless of their race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or ability, feels welcomed, respected, and valued. Diversity is what makes our school community rich and dynamic. It brings together different perspectives, experiences, and ideas, which are essential for growth, learning, and innovation. However, diversity without inclusion is meaningless. Thats why we need to actively work towards creating an inclusive environment where every student feels a sense of belonging and has equal opportunities to succeed. If elected, I will make diversity and inclusion a top priority. I will collaborate with the administration, faculty, and student leaders to develop and implement policies and programs that promote equity and combat discrimination and bias. Some of the initiatives I plan to introduce include: Organizing diversity and inclusion workshops and training sessions for students, faculty, and staff. Establishing a diversity and inclusion committee that will work towards identifying and addressing issues related to equity and inclusion in our school. Advocating for a more diverse and inclusive curriculum that represents the experiences and perspectives of marginalized communities. Creating safe spaces and support groups for students who may feel marginalized or excluded. Celebrating diversity through cultural events, festivals, and awareness campaigns. By working together to promote diversity and inclusion, we can create a school community where every student feels valued, respected, and empowered to be their authentic selves. So, lets embrace our differences, celebrate our diversity, and build an inclusive school culture that uplifts and supports every student. Vote for [Your Name] for [Position], and lets make our school a place where everyone belongs. END OF SPEECH Commentary: This long speech addresses the important topic of diversity and inclusion in the school community. It presents a compelling case for why diversity and inclusion matter and outlines specific initiatives the candidate plans to introduce if elected. This speech is suitable for a campaign focused on promoting equity and social justice or for a school event celebrating diversity. Speech 5: Advocating for Mental Health SupportGood morning everyone. Today, I want to talk about an issue that affects many of us, yet often goes unspoken: mental health. As students, we face a lot of pressure and extracurricular activities to social relationships and personal challenges. Its easy to feel overwhelmed, anxious, or even depressed at times. Thats why, as your potential [Position], I believe that our school should prioritize mental health support for all students. We need to create a culture where its okay to talk about mental health professionals to develop a comprehensive mental health support system for our school. This will include: Increasing access to mental health resources, such as counseling services, support groups, and crisis hotlines. Organizing mental health awareness campaigns and events to reduce stigma and promote open conversations about mental health. Advocating for the integration of mental health education into our curriculum, so students can learn about coping strategies, stress management, and emotional well-being. Creating a peer support network where students can learn about coping strategies, stress management, and emotional well-being. By prioritizing mental health support, we can create a school environment where every student feels supported, valued, and empowered to take care of their emotional well-being. So, lets work together to break the silence around mental health, and build a school community that promotes resilience, compassion, and well-being for all. Vote for [Your leaves around mental health, and build a school community that promotes resilience, compassion, and well-being for all. Vote for [Your leaves around mental health, and build a school community that promotes resilience, compassion, and well-being for all. Vote for [Your leaves around mental health, and build a school community that promotes resilience, compassion, and well-being for all. Vote for [Your leaves around mental health, and build a school community that promotes resilience, compassion, and well-being for all. Vote for [Your leaves around mental health, and build a school community that promotes resilience around mental health, and build a school community that promotes around mental health arou Name] for [Position], and lets make mental health a priority. END OF SPEECH Commentary: This lengthy speech tackles the critical issue of mental health and outlines specific initiatives the candidate plans to implement if elected. This speech is suitable for a campaign focused on student well-being or for a school event raising awareness about mental health. Speech 6: Envisioning a Sustainable Future Hello, fellow students. As we look to the future, its clear that sustainable Future Hello, fellow students. As we look to the future, its clear that sustainable Future Hello, fellow students. As we look to the future, its clear that sustainability and environmental responsibility must be at the forefront of our minds. As your potential [Position], I believe that our minds a sustainable future, its clear that sustainable future hello, fellow students.
school has a crucial role to play in shaping a sustainable future not just for ourselves, but for generations to come. The challenges we face are difficult from climate change and resource depletion to pollution and waste. But I believe that our school into model of sustainability and inspire others to follow our lead. If elected, I will make sustainability a top priority. I will work with the administration, faculty, and student leaders to develop and implement a comprehensive sustainability plan for our school. This plan will include: Reducing our schools carbon footprint by implementing energy-efficient practices, such as using renewable energy sources and improving insulation. Promoting waste reduction and recycling throughout the school. Encouraging sustainable transportation options, such as biking, walking, and carpooling, and advocating for better public transportation access. Integrating sustainability education into our curriculum, so students can learn about the environmental challenges we face and the solutions we can implement. Creating a student-led sustainability committee that will work to identify and address sustainability issues in our school and community. By taking action on sustainability, we can not only reduce our environmental impact but also create a healthier, more resilient school community. We can inspire others to join us in the fight against climate change and environmental degradation. So, lets come together to build a sustainable future one where we can thrive in harmony with the planet. Vote for [Your Name] for [Position], and lets make sustainability a way of life at our school. END OF SPEECH Commentary: This lengthy speech focuses on the urgent issue of sustainability and environmental responsibility. It presents a vision for transforming the school into a model of sustainability and environmental responsibility. It presents a vision for transforming the school into a model of sustainability and environmental responsibility.
suitable for a campaign centered on environmental issues or for a school event promoting sustainability and eco-friendliness. Conclusion of passion, vision, and strategic thinking. By focusing on issues that matter to your fellow students, presenting concrete solutions, and delivering your message with confidence and authenticity, you can inspire your peers to support your candidacy and join you in creating positive change in your school community. Keep in mind, that the key to a successful speech is to connect with your audience on a personal level. Share your own experiences, listen to the concerns of your fellow students, and demonstrate your commitment to making a difference. Use these sample speeches as a starting point, but dont be afraid to infuse your personality and unique perspective into your all! With hard work, dedication, and a compelling message, you can win the hearts and minds of your fellow students and become a strong voice for positive change in your school. Good luck, and may the best candidate win! Share copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format for any purpose, even commercially. The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms. Attribution You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the licenser endorses you or your use. ShareAlike If you remix transform, or build upon the material, you must distribute your contributions under the same license as the original. No additional restrictions You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits. You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation. No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material. You've all sent in so many, that BST create this page with more positive quotes for kids. This is the second page and we're still not done. Below you will find quotes on work ethic, relationships, making choices, attitude, inspiration, and many more. Thank you so much for all your input and please do keep them coming! Submit your own inspirational quotes for kids here. Use the form at the end of this page to share YOUR favorite quotes! I appreciate your contributions. More Positive Quotes for Kids about instilling work ethic and individualism: "Winners don't do different things, they do things differently." (submitted by Indrajeet) "You get what you give." (submitted by Swetha) "It doesn't matter how many times you fall. What matters is how many times you get up."(submitted by Emily R) "When the going gets tough, the tough get going."(submitted by Jessy) "If you never try, you'll never succeed!"(submitted by Zoe) "Hard work never fails."(submitted by Saumya) "No matter what obstacles that are in your way, always keep striving."(submitted by Kaleb) "Let your weakness become your strength."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no shoes, until upon the street I met a man with no feet."(submitted by Rainbow) "I had the blues because I had no s the change you wish to see in the world."- Ghandi(submitted by Andranne)Quotes motivating youth to make good choices: "When things go wrong... Don't go with them." (submitted by Andranne)Quotes motivating youth to make good choices: "When things go wrong... Don't go with them."
good choices."(submitted by Alicia) "Life comes at you fast, so make your decisions even faster."(submitted by Ayyza) "Smile and the world smiles back."(submitted by Alicia) "Life comes at you fast, so make your decisions even faster."(submitted by Ayyza) "Smile and the world smiles back."(submitted by Ayyza) "Smile and the world smiles back."
by Oona) "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."- Eleanor Roosevelt(submitted by Haley) "You can do anything if you believe." (submitted by Melissa) "Be Yourself." (submitted by Sharmi) "Always forgive, never forget, learn from your mistakes, but never regret people change, and things go wrong, but just remember life goes on. "(submitted by Lena) "Let go of the past and keep moving forward." (submitted by Daphne) "Live your life the way you want to not the way other people think you should!" - Unknown(submitted by KLH) "Life's Short, Take Chances." - Unknown(submitted by Alyssa and Alexa) "Don't ever give up trying to achieve your, goal never say never. "(submitted by Nathan) "The Sky is the limit!" (submitted by Mahima) "Don't ever listen to people who tell you what you canand cannot be. They are most likely to be saying these things aboutthemselves than about you." (submitted by Kris) More inspirational positive quotes for kids: "The grass is greener on the other side"...
But don't let that get you down! :)(submitted by Liya, From Cypress) "Make an honest living."(submitted by Guru Nanak Dev ji) "People who use empathy are truly wise."(submitted by Will) Sometimes quotes and speech encourage self-reliance and happiness. Youth born after 1995 are more connected than ever because of computers, smartphones and social media. However, along with the benefits of being a simple post away from sharing our success and failures, comes increased anxiety and chances for depression. Speech and writing continues as means of expression that helps students and adults to cope. Below are a few more positive quotes for kids that encourage fortitude. "Why try so hard to fit in when you were born to stand out."(submitted by Anna ) "Smile - it's contagious."(submitted by Kelsy) "A fool thinks himself to be a fool."(submitted by Danielle) "The greatest achievement for any human being is to love God, yourself and others."(submitted by Loretta) "In order to succeed you must have the courage to fail and try again." (submitted by Alyssa) "A person who is not disciplined cannot be cautioned." (submitted by Vicky) "If you let them judge to fail and try again." (submitted by Alyssa) "A person who is not disciplined cannot be cautioned." (submitted by Vicky) "If you let them judge to fail and try again." (submitted by Alyssa) "A person who is not disciplined cannot be cautioned." (submitted by Vicky) "If you let them judge to fail and try again."
you, they will. You need to stand strong and be confident with who you are!"(submitted by Claire) "The wise man has long ears and a short tongue." - German proverb(submitted by Heidi) "I may be one person to the world, but to one person, I am the world.."(submitted by Ahmanto) "The only thing that can change your luck is hard work." (submitted by Musa) Teachers can use quotes to grab attention and gain credibility: I often quote Martin Luther King, Jr. while coaching speech and debate for his proposition in his document "The Purpose of Education" that the goal of education is to teach one to think critically. (King, M. L., Carson, C., Luker, R. E., Russell, P. A., & Harlan, L. R. (1992). The papers of Martin Luther King, Jr. Berkeley, CA: University of California Press.) I consider this a positive quote for kids because MLK is someone that students know and respect. Quoting him can increase my ethos in the classroom setting. Students may not be ready to listen to what I have to say, but they will respect a hero like King. My favorite MLK quote is "Rarely do we find men who willingly engage in hard, solid thinking. There is an almost universal quest for easy answers and half-baked solutions. Nothing pains some people more than having to think. I use Dr. King's quotes to encourage students to do hard work like speech and debate, rather than focus their education on rote memorization. Good public speaking requires young people to develop and use critical thinking skills. For example, a good student speech will develop several claims with supporting evidence and explanations, sometimes called tie-ins or warrants. Moreover, an expression that is not just average, but notable, will develop a theme that weaves through the speech and gathers the attention of the audience effectively in the beginning introduction portion of the address.
Using positive quotes for kids provides an excellent way to write an exciting attention getter. Thanks again to all of you who sent in (and continue to send) more positive quotes for kids! Have A Positive quote for use in a Speech? Share it! Return to the Top of the Page Best Speech Topics > School Speech Topics > More Positive Quotes for Kids Share this page Elementary school speech topics shouldn't be too challenging, but that doesn't mean they have to be boring! The 30 ideas on this page are just right for younger kids who want to create a cool presentation. First Set of 10 Elementary School Speech Topicsmy favorite silly family storywhyte.
I should be Presidentwhy my favorite subject is science, English, math, gym... etc.tell us the rules for baseball, soccer, go fish...etc.tell us some of the consequences of lying, stealing, cheating, etc.I would if I won a million dollarsI want to be a when I grow up because....convince us that it is better to be a kid than an adultconvince us that it is better to be an adult than a kidwhy I want to travel to outer spaceSecond Set of 10 Elementary School Speech Topicsif I could talk to any cartoon character it would be because...my greatest strength is...what I would most like to learn how to do is...my favorite creative outlet is painting, music, acting, etc.being a kid sucks because...the best day of my life was...Third Set of 10 Elementary School Speech Topicsmy school is the best because...tell us about your most prized possessiontell us about the best way to study for a testI because...being a kid is great because...what peace means to mewar scares me because...if I could have anything I wished for it would be would never smoke cigarettes because...my favorite movie is...convince us that spinach is something we should eat more ofconvince us that candy is good/bad for our healthwhy we should be allowed to choose their own bedtimeDidn't see an idea that inspired you? Then try these 40 speech topics for kids for even more great ideas to work with. And although they're slightly more advanced, you may like to check out these high school speech topics too! I do hope these topics have given you some ideas that will help you develop an exciting speech. Don't forget to have a look at these positive quotes for kids before you begin writing. The inspirational words may help provoke further creative thinking, or you may be able to use one of them within the speech itself. Never give up teaching young students to give presentations and public speeches. According to experts, schools worldwide are elevating speech to a core component of education, and communication is a necessary skill to succeed. Gallo, Carmine. Don't Abolish In-Class Presentations, Teach Students To Enjoy Public Speaking. Forbes, Forbes Magazine, 11 Oct. 2018, www.forbes.com/sites/carminegallo/2018/09/23/dont-abolish-in-class-presentations-teach-students-to-enjoy-public-speaking/#2f50a637ccb8. Share this page Return to the Top of the Page Best Speech Topics > School Speech Topics >
see a sample campaign speech to help you write one of your own. There's an example below, as well as a list of the main tasks* of the Student Council Secretary. You'll want to be thoroughly familiar with all of them before you can begin on your speech! Go to:*(My list is general. Your school may have specific requirements that I've not noted. Double check to ensure you know what would be good to highlight in your speech prior to writing it.) Students you need all three of them!The role of Student Council Secretary is key to ensuring the council functions smoothly and communicates effectively with students, faculty, and administration. The main tasks and responsibilities of the position are:Record keeping:Maintaining accurate records of all council meetings which includes taking the minutes, preparing the agendas, and noting attendance. Ensuring that the minutes of meetings are distributed to Council members and, when necessary, to the student body. Correspondence and communication that the minutes of meetings are distributed to Council members and, when necessary, to the student body. Correspondence and communication that the minutes of meetings are distributed to Council members and, when necessary, to the students, teachers, and administration. Relaying important information, announcements, and decisions made by the council to the student body. Meeting preparation: Assisting in the preparation: Assisting in the preparation of meeting agendas and other required relevant information to council members before meetings. Attendance tracking: Keeping track of attendance at council meetings and reporting any issues to the Student Council President or to the Student Council advisor. For example: repeated unexplained absenteeism or lateness. Archiving and documents for reference. Elections and voting: Assisting in organizing and overseeing Student Council elections, including the nomination processes and voting procedures. Committee support. Event calendar and committees to help them achieve their goals by providing administrative support. Event calendar and organizing and organizing the school sevent calendar and organizing the school sevent calendar and organizing and organizing the school sevent calendar and organized the school se school events, fundraisers, and community service initiatives sponsored by the Student Council.Community outreach efforts to engage with the student body, gathering feedback, and promoting student council activities. Advocacy and representation: Serving as a voice for the student body by representing their concerns, ideas, and suggestions during council meetings. Collaboration and teamwork: Working closely with the Student Council operates in accordance with its constitution or bylaws and helping update these documents when necessary. Problem solving: Assisting in addressing and finding solutions to issues and challenges faced by the student body. Promotion of school spirit: Encouraging school spirit and pride through involvement in pep rallies, spirit weeks, and other activities that foster a sense of unity and belonging. Return to TopExample Secretary speech for Student Council to get a good idea of how this speech works, read it through a couple of times and then try it out loud. It's 474 words long which will take just over 3 minutes to say, depending on yourspeech rate. Don't you just love writing up notes, and scheduling activities? No? {said with abig smile } Fellow students, teachers, and staff of Cherry Landing College, fortunately I do! That's why I'm here standing in front of you today. My name is Sam Smith, and I would sincerely appreciate the opportunity to serve you as your Student Council Secretary. Excellent communication and organizational skills are essential for this role. As anybody who knows me knows, I have both of those, along with the determination to use them to benefit all of us. The success of a Student Council is to a large extent determined by the efficiency and effectiveness of its communications. As your Secretary, I will make it my primary mission to ensure that information flows smoothly between the student body, teachers, and administration. We know what happens when it doesn't flow as it should. And we don't like it. People feel excluded. Assumptions are made. Things quickly become unnecessarily chaotic - something we want to avoid! Now, excellence in communication is underpinned by excellence in organizational skills. The first is impossible without the latter. Again, I am known for my attention to detail and my ability to keep things well and thoroughly organized. From recording meeting minutes to maintaining a comprehensive calendar of events, you can rely on me to work diligently to keep our council running efficiently - a chaos free zone. However, being Secretary isn't just about fulfilling administrative tasks well. It's about being a dedicated advocate for all of you. I promise to represent your interests and work to address any issues or challenges that may arise during the school facilities, advocating for more extracurricular activities, or addressing concerns about the cafeteria menu, I will be your voice. Whoever you are, I promise to actively listen to your concerns, suggestions, and ideas, and to ensure that they are brought to the attention of the council. In addition, I am fully committed to fostering a culture of inclusivity and collaboration within our school. I will actively seek out opportunities to bring students from different backgrounds and interests together. By doing so, together we will create a stronger, more united student body- a microcosm of the society we want to live in - one that supports us all. In conclusion, I am ready and eager to serve as your Secretary. I bring a resolve to represent each and every one of you to the best of my ability. Together, we can make our school a place where every student's voice is heard, and where positive change is always possible. I ask for your to the best of my ability. Together, we can make our school a place where every student's voice is heard, and where positive change is always possible. I ask for your support and your vote. Sam Smith for Secretary! Together, we can make a difference. Thank you. Return to TopGet a blank Student Council speech plannerClick on the image below to open a downloadable printable student council speech planner and outline pdf. (Please note it will open in a new window.) Return to Top If you've arrived on this page without seeing this one: Student Council Secretary. You'll find: a list of important points you'll want to consider carefully before you start, another 2 example speeches - Student Council Speeches. And click this link if you'd like to read an example Student Council speech for Treasurer. Return to Top How to Write a Speech for Student Council: A Step-by-Step Guide As a student, being part of the student council can be a fantastic opportunity. However, with great power comes great responsibility, and one of the most significant responsibilities of a student council member is to deliver inspiring speeches to their peers. In this article, we will guide you through the process of writing a speech for student council, covering the essential elements, tips, and best practices to help you craft a compelling and effective speech. Step 1: Identify the Occasion and Purpose Before you start writing, its crucial to identify the occasion and purpose of the speech, a farewell speech, or a speech to present an idea or concern? Understanding the context and purpose of the speech will help you tailor your message and tone accordingly. Key Considerations for Different Occasions Welcome speech. Is it a welcome speech will help you tailor your message and tone accordingly. Key Considerations for Different Occasions Welcome speech. on introducing yourself, your role, and your vision for the presentation: Focus on the benefits, challenges, and action plan for the proposed idea. Step 2: Define Your Audience Who is your audience? What are their interests, concerns, and motivations? Understanding your audience will help you tailor your message, use relevant examples, and avoid jargon or technical terms that may confuse or alienate them. Characteristics of Your Audience Age group: Are they freshman, sophomores, juniors, or seniors? Each age group has unique characteristics, interests, and concerns. Interests:
What are they passionate about? What do they care about? What do they want to achieve or change? Step 3: Identify Your Key Messages What do you want to achieve or change? Step 3: Identify the essential messages you want to deliver, and prioritize them. Remember, three to five key messages are enough to avoid overwhelming your audience. Types of Key Messages Inspirational: Encourage, motivate, and inspire your audience. Educative: Share knowledge, provide information, or explain a concept. Persuasive: Ask for action, support, or change. Step 4: Organize Your Speech How will you structure your speech? A clear and logical flow is essential to engage your audience and keep them interested. Use the Rule of Three and The Pyramid Principle to create a compelling and easy-to-follow speech. Organization Techniques Rule of Three and Interested to create a compelling and easy-to-follow speech.
The Pyramid Principle: Start with a broad statement, then narrow it down to a specific point, and conclude with a call to action. Step 5: Write Your Speech Now its time to put your ideas into words. Use a conversational tone, avoid jargon, and make it engaging by incorporating stories, examples, and anecdotes. Make it concise, clear, and free of grammatical errors. Writing Tips Use a conversational tone: Write like your etalking to your peers, not a professor or an expert. Use storytelling: Share personal experiences or relatable stories to connect with your audience. Use visual aids: Incorporate images, videos, or props to support your message and keep your audience engaged. Step 6: Practice and Rehearse How will you deliver your speech? Practice in front of a mirror, record yourself, or present to a small group of friends or classmates. Rehearse with confidence, gestures, and pace to ensure a smooth delivery. Rehearse with confidence in front of a mirror, record yourself, or present to a small group of friends or classmates. Rehearse with confidence in front of a mirror, record yourself, or present to a small group of friends or classmates.
contact, and facial expressions to engage your audience. Audio-visual aids: Ensure they work properly and are relevant to your message. Step 7: Reflect and Evaluate After the speech, take the time to reflect on your performance. Seek feedback from your performance. to gather feedback. Evaluation Checklist Clarity: Was your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your audience interested and engaged? Effectiveness: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your audience interested and engaged? Effectiveness: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand? Engagement: Did you keep your message clear and easy to understand and engagement with the properties of the prop practice. By following these steps, tips, and best practices, youll be well-equipped to craft a compelling and effective speech that resonates with your peers. Remember to be confident, persuasive, and inspiring, and youll be on your way to delivering a speech that makes a lasting impact. Your friends have asked us these questions - Check out the
```

What do you say in a student council speech. Student council speech 4 o	rrade. How do vou write a 4th grade s	student council speech. What to write:	in a student council speech. Student	council 4th grade speech.
What do you say in a student council speech. Student council speech 4 g	4th grade student council	speech examples.		ourion fur grade operation